

National Workshops - SASSCAL II Research Call

SASSCAL and BMBF have announced a new call for the subsequent research phase (2019 - 2022), to fund research in Southern Africa.

It is against this background that SASSCAL is informing potential applicants to attend various national workshops. The aim of the national workshops is to share information and provide a platform for interaction of researchers to allow for discussions and to build possible contacts and networks to respond to the call. The workshop further aims to inform prospective grantees on the call guidelines and the submission mechanisms. Please confirm your attendance to respective national convenor and/or contact. SASSCAL will not cover any costs for attendance.
